Books Today

FICTION

ONCE A GREEK, by Friedrich Duerrematt, translated from the German by Richard and Clara Winston (Knopf, $3,95). Humorous story about a middle-aged clerk's search for a wife.
The Makepace Experiment, by Abram Tertz, translated from the Russian with an introduction by Manyae Harari (Pantheon Books, $2,95). A satire on life in Russia.
The Town in Bloom, by Dodie Smith (Atlantic-Little, Brown, $4,95). Novel about an 18-year-old girl's attempt to make her way on the London stage in the Nineteen Twenties.

A Continent for Science: The Antarctic Adventure, by Richard S. Lewis (Viking, $7.95).

A Continent for Science: The Antarctic Adventure, by Richard S. Lewis (Viking, $7.95).

A House of Many Rooms: A Family Memoir, by Rodello Hunter (Knopf, $4.95). Life of a Mormon family at the turn of the century.

Business Week's the Business Man's Guide for Ruskin and Willed Brinney (McGraw-Hill, $10).
Cockerel, Friend of Ruskin and William Morris and director of the Fitzwilliam Mussum, Cambridge, by Wilfrid Blunt (Knopf, $7.50).

The Town in Bloom, by Dodie South (Atlantic-Little, Brown, Markers of The Malson's Construction: The Molson's Construction: The Molson's Construction: The Molson's Construction: The Molson's Construction of Viewpoints at the Center for Strategic Studies, Georgetown University, edited by Karl H. Cerny and Henry W. Briefs, foreword by General Leauris Norstad (Institution on War, Revolution and Peace: Praege, $3). The reactions of a member of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Controlled For The Assassiv, by Conference of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Conference of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Conference of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Conference of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Conference of the Warren Commission to the revelations in the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Aug. 24, 1965: have seen no other listing, nor any reviews.