

New Books

Fiction

DEATH ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN, by Louis-Ferdinand Celine, translated with an introduction by Ralph Manheim (New Directions, $7.50; New American Library, $1.25 paperback). New translation of a novel published in France in 1952.

RAKOSSY, by Cecilia Holland (Atheneum, $5.75) Novel set in Hungary in 1525.

Paperback Original. PLATO, "The Symposium," a dramatized version by Franz Kobler and Ernst Muller, introduction by Franz Kobler, afterword by Ernst Muller (Ungar, $1.45).

Reprints. BEETLECREEK, by William Demby, afterword by Herbert Hill (Avon Library, 75 cents);

THE HUNDRED AND ONE DALMATIANS, by Dodie Smith (Avon Camelot Book, 60 cents); SUMMERHILLS, by D. E. Stevenson; THE STALKING MOON, by Theodore V. Olsen (Avon, 50 cents each).

Reprints. REASON FOR GLADNESS, by Mary Wallace; THE INNER ROOM, by Vera Randal; THRESHOLD, by Stephen Coulter; WAIT FOR THE WEDDING, by Celia Fremlin; WEEK WITH NO FRIDAY, by Willard Marsh (Avon, 60 cents each).

General

AMERICAN BISHOP AT THE VATICAN COUNCIL: Recollections and Projections, by Bishop Robert E. Tracy (McGraw-Hill, $6.50).

GREAT BRITAIN, Vol. I, Southern England, East Anglia: Handbook for Travellers, by Karl Baedeker, Tenth Edition (Macmillan, $6.95).

HOOFPRINTS IN TIME, by George B. Russell (A. S. Barnes, $25). About American horses and their sires.

KASSERINE PASS, by Martin Blumensohn (Houghton Mifflin, $5.95). An account of a turning point in World War II's African campaign.

NO OTHER GOD, by Gabriel Vahanian (Braziller, $4; paperback, $1.50). A case against "Christian atheism."

POLAR ANIMALS, by Alwin Pedersen, translated from the French by Gwynne Vevers (Taplinger, $4.95). Illustrated nature writing.

SPEAK, MEMORY: An Autobiography Revisited, by Vladimir Nabokov (Putnam, $6.75). Reviewed today.

THE BIG BLUE LINE: Police vs. Human Rights, by Ed Cray (Coward-McCann, $5.95).

THE CHURCH IN EARLY IRISH SOCIETY, by Kathleen Hughes (Cornell University, $7.50).

THE ECONOMICS OF POVERTY, by Thomas Balogh (Macmillan, $7.95). A look at the socio-economic problems "of this generation."

THERE WAS A PRESIDENT (Ridge Press-Random House, $2.95). The events before and after the shooting of President Kennedy as reported and pictured by N.B.C. television.