

BOOK ON RIGHTISTS GETS $10,000 PRIZE

'Politics of Unreason' Wins First Myrdal Award

The first $10,000 Gunnar Myrdal Prize, established for books of distinction in the study of human behavior, was awarded yesterday to "The Politics of Unreason," by Seymour Lipset and Earl Raab.

The book, which presents an analysis of right-wing extremism from 1790 through George Wallace of 1970, will be published Oct. 7 by Harper & Row.
