

from column "Notes on People," by Albin Krebs:

A new memoir of Robert F. Kennedy adds some fresh details to the story of the running feud between the Senator and J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Edwin Guthman, a close associate of Mr. Kennedy when the latter was Attorney General, writes in "We Band of Brothers" that Mr. Kennedy came to regard Mr. Hoover as unforgivably cold and ultimately untrustworthy in the years after President Kennedy's assassination. Mr. Guthman, now national editor of the Los Angeles Times, called Mr. Hoover's icy treatment of Robert Kennedy "cruel."
