Witness Links Ferguson to Assassination Talk

By JOHN KIFNER
A police undercover agent testified yesterday that Herman B. Ferguson, the suspended assistant school principal assistant school principal Agent Testifies at Trial

Agent Testifies at Trial

been told a month later that his military training in the electrical field would be useful in making timing devices for bombs and in sabotaging assistant school principal charged with conspiracy to commit murder and anarchy, commit murder and anarchy, had mentioned President Johnson as a possible assassination target.

The statement came during more than three hours of testimony by Detective Edward Lee Howlett, the prosecution's macial Services, said that he had joined Mr. Ferguson and his co-defendent, Arthur Harris, who are charged with conspiring to kill Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young, the civil rights leaders. Detective Howlett said that he had joined Mr. Ferguson's organization, the Black Brother-hood Improvement Association, and had eventually become, along with Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Harris, a member of a three-man "terrorist cell" within the group.

Assigned Underground

The endergroup and was therefore prejudicial to her Negor Client, was also denied.

The undercover agent, now Rifle Range, Mr Ferguson asked become a member of a cial Services, said that he had deventually become, along with conspiring to kill Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young, the civil rights leaders.

Detective Howlett said that he had joined Mr. Ferguson's organization, the Black Brother-hood Improvement Association, and had eventually become, along with Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Harris, a member of a three-man "terrorist cell" within the group.

Assigned Underground

Assigned Underground

Assigned Underground

The policeman, a youthfullooking, light-skinned Negro, said that shortly after he had joined the New York City force on July 9, 1965, he had been assigned to "attend meetings and rallies held by controversial, subversive andd radical groups, with the object of infiltrating them and becoming a member."

He showed up at the trial

He showed up at the trial in Queens Supreme Court yes-terday with a half dozen bulky envelopes and file folders containing reports, notes and copie of the organization's position papers.

Much of his testimony consisted of brief answers to detailed questionf from Assistant District Attorney Thomas De Makos, and several times the proceedings stopped as the detective searched through the envelopes for a document or read his notes to refresh his memory. memory.

He outlined a series of ac-tivities — including the forma-tion of a rigle club with target practice and training in judo and karate — along with meetings and discussions that he said let up to the alleged plot to kill Mr. Wilkins and Mr. Young.

Young.
On Dec. 27, 1967, Detective Howlett testified, Mr. Ferguson had told him, "'After Wilkins, we might want to get Lyndon Johnson.'"

"Is that what Feftuson said?" Mr. Dakos said, sounding star-

Mistrial Motion Denied

The defense lawyer, Miss Gene Ann Condon, moved for a mistrial, charging that the detective's testimony was "inflammatory, highly prejudicial and outside the issue of whether there had been an agreement" to kill the civil rughts leaders. Justice Paul Balsam denied the motion nied the motion.

Earlier another mistrial motion, in which Miss Condon contended that the 50-member prospective jury panel had only