

The Many Faces of Sorrow

These are the people . . . the people who came to pay their last respects yesterday to Robert F. Kennedy as he lay in his casket in New York's St. Patrick's Cathedral. All day long and far into the night they filed into the edifice by the thousands, waiting for hours in long lines for the chance to pay personal tribute to their fallen idol.

—AP Photo