

NYTimes

10 May 75

Notes on People by Laurie JohnstonNYTimes
MAY 10 1975

Allard K. Lowenstein, former Congressman from Nassau County, is going to have a summer job with California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. but it won't be to start "an incipient political campaign" on the Governor's behalf, Mr. Lowenstein said in Los Angeles yesterday. He has signed on as an "educational aide" to lend a hand with social issues, such as housing, farm labor and "whatever Mr. Brown wants done." The former chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, who has been trying to reopen the case of Sirhan B. Sirhan, said he had already been planning to spend a "vacation" in California this summer.