

Freedom Party Picks Gregory And Mark Lane

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The Freedom and Peace Party announced yesterday it has nominated comedian Dick Gregory, a civil rights activist, and Mark Lane, critic of the Warren Commission, as its candidates for President and Vice President in New York state.

"Freedom and Peace" slates have been nominated in various states, and Gregory heads several of them.

Lane wrote a book criticizing the Warren Commission's findings on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.
