Federal Court Weighs Plea of 7 In Mississippi Rights Slayings

ATLANTA, May 26 (AP)—A statement, the Supreme Court three-judge Federal court has ruled that officers must advise in the Mississippi slayings of before they make any state-three civil rights leaders in ment at all. 1964.

behalf of the seven.

Attorneys for one of the men, Horace Doyle Barnette, argued that his rights had been violated because agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation had not informed him that he could have court-appointed counsel before he signed a statement.

Harriette was convicted of an Miss.

Three years after Barnette's Snowden.

taken under advisement the appersons in custody that they peals of seven men convicted have a right to an attorney

However, United States At-The court's action came after oral arguments were heard on behalf of the seven.

Attornous for one of the seven.

Attornous for one of the seven.

statement.

Barnette was convicted of conspiracy. His statement was used in the trial of 18 others. Of the 18, seven were convicted and their appeal is before a three-judge Federal panel.

Three years after Barnette's E. Chaney, a Negro of Meridian, Miss.

Others appealing besides Barnette are Cecil Ray Price, Billy Wayne Posey, Sam H. Bowers Jr., Wayne Roberts, Jimmy Arledge, and Jimmy Snowden.