Dear Sir:

In response to your November 3 letter, we regret that the 6.5 M/M Mannlicher-Carcano cartridge is not being produced commercially by our company.

At one time this ammunition was produced on a government contract basis and any ammunition being made available on the market today is government surplus.

Regret we cannot be of help and are returning herewith your blank check No. 137.

Yours very truly,

OLIN MATHIESON CHEMICAL

Dear Mr. Gebelein:

We have received your letter dated November 12, 1964 in which you regret that the 6.5 M/M Mannlicher-Carcano cartridge is not being produced commercially by your company.

Will you please advise me by return mail where I can purchase this ammunition commercially? I am repeating the specifications for this ammunition so that there is no misunderstanding as to the exact ammunition I am seeking:

Metal-jacketed, military type 6.5 mm. cartridge, weighing 160-161 grains suitable for use in a 6.5 mm. Mannlicher Carcano rifle of Italian manufacture.

Please advise when the ammunition was manufactured; if the ammunition was made for the United States government or for a foreign government?

Very truly yours

/s/ George C. Thomson

Dear Mr. Thomson:

This is to acknowledge your November 16 letter on the 6.5 M/M Mannlicher-Carcano cartridge.

It is hard for us to tell you exactly where such ammunition can be purchased as ammunition of this type is not manufactured by our company, but have dug up a couple of references from the Shotgun News magazine at Columbus, Nebraska.

It might be possible to write for information on this cartridge to the following:

Potomac Arms Corp.	Vic's for Guns
Box 35-SN3	Galveston
Zero Prince Street	Texas - 77550
Alexandria, Virginia

Should you be able to purchase this ammunition from the references given to you, it is quite possible that the year of manufacture will be stamped on the head of each shell.

Sorry that we could not be of more help and thank you very much for your inquiry.

Yours very truly,
(signed Gebelein, see Nov. 19 letter)
