

C.I.A. Deputy Confirms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)
—Vice Adm. Rufus L. Taylor won Senate confirmation today as Deputy Director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The 56-year-old career naval intelligence officer succeeds Richard Helms, who has advanced to Director of Central Intelligence.