

U.S. Research Agency* Leaving Thailand

*"Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency (ARPA).
.... U.S. officials [story datelined Bangkok] still decline to discuss, on grounds of security, many of the projects ARPA was involved in, and there is still no official confirmation that the agency used airplanes of Air America, a charter line that works for the CIA and other U.S. government agencies in Southeast Asia, to defoliate an area of jungle in Thailand in 1965 and 1966."