

DREW PEARSON

Hoover Moving To Oust Ex-Aide

WASH. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover's bitter feud is now being played out in a new arena. The former No. 3 man in the FBI is now being moved to the center of the storm by a group of police chiefs who are planning to oust him from his post as executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Mr. Hoover's move to the center of the storm is now being played out in a new arena. The former No. 3 man in the FBI is now being moved to the center of the storm by a group of police chiefs who are planning to oust him from his post as executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

One of the reasons for the move is the fact that Hoover has been accused of trying to create a monopoly of power in the FBI. He is also accused of trying to undermine the authority of the police chiefs.

Hoover reacted vigorously to the move, sending out an air-telegram to all special agents asking them to contact board members of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and line them up against Tamm in order to oust him at the next IACP board meeting.

Simultaneously Hoover began suggesting other police chiefs to replace Tamm as executive director.

AT THIS POINT, Leonard Lawrence of Hamilton, Ontario, president of the IACP, came to Washington. He called on Hoover's alleged boss, Attorney General Clark, and informed him of the efforts to undermine Tamm. Lawrence asked Clark if he could attend the next board meeting of the chiefs of police.

Attorney General Clark then called Hoover's right-hand man, Deak DeLoach, a member of the IACP board, and told him:

"If you say anything against Tamm at the next board meeting, I shall be compelled to speak out myself."

Clark was as good as his word. Two days later he did attend the board meeting of the chiefs of police. He was not required to speak out, however. Deak DeLoach had heeded his warning and did not urge Tamm's removal. The question of support for Tamm was raised, however, and he received an overwhelming vote of confidence from the police chiefs.

J. Edgar Hoover lost this round in the bitter battle between him and the former No. 3 man in the FBI. However, the battle is continuing.

EVERYONE IS anxious that Congress adjourn early this election year—the President, the Vice-President, the speaker, and Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader. Speaker John McCormack is trying to get House Committee chairmen to expedite their handling of legislation, and has set an adjournment target of Labor Day, Sept. 2. Chairman George Mahon, D-Tex., already has geared up the functions of the Appropriations Committee by holding hearings during the current Lincoln birthday recess.

President Johnson did his part with an off-the-record pep talk to Mahon and his committee colleagues.

VISITING PROF
CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—George Ramsey Cook, a professor of history at the University of Toronto, has been appointed visiting professor of Canadian studies in 1968-1969 at Harvard University.

WHEN EXPLODING KEEP GLASS SIDE UP