All the clips I am sending may not be of interest. Lil thought they might interest me, so she clipped them. I do not have time to read them all and I may not have paid close enough attention in skimming some. Some she clipped with you in mind. One folder had your name on it. Another did not coincide with any file I have - Uriah. Herx special pet name for LBJ for as long as I can remember. I've gone through most (the worst?), what remains being longer pieces. I've made better time that I would have because I've been kind of edgy since returning, I suppose part letdown, part oppression from what I must now try and find time for and lingering problems and part depression when I compare the results of this trip with the past and realize that had some of those with resources been straight and competent, we could have accomplished so much more. Anyway, it was not my purpose to burden you with what would not interest you. Rather, if I thought there was a chance it could be of interest, I've sent it. Only a couple of small ones are AP. H

Now that I've seen the blanket in daylight, I'll try to package it tonight while looking at the TV news (news?) and mail it in the a.m. Hope it pleases. I know it will warm. Lil enjoyed your 11/19 note(s). H

12/10, p.m.-While Lil is trying to finish up her months' bookkeeping for our local bookstore-gift shop, I packaged the blanket. Because she hopes to complete this little so we can deliver it in the a.m., when she has to go into town and I to the post office, she asks me to remind you that it has been washed;
is machine washable;
doesn't require (or even want to be) blocked.
The puckering around the border is because she used a heavier wool. Were she to do it again, she'd double-stitch it, or something like that.
The one thing I do know is that it does say "Ma". Hope it warms the cockles as it warms the flesh. Best, HW

My interest in the deVosjoly-SDECE-Heroin case is limited to the former, the CIA and his possible ties with it when he headed French intelligence in the US. I have no reason to believe the wire copy will be used out there more than here, but it may be possible that the LATimes may carry a story not used in the east, or that the underground press might. I am satisfied that deV, who merely adopted the de for prestige, was CIA when he was here, and I have a strong feeling that he had much to do with L'Amérique Brule, earlier title of Farewell America.
