

It's now 12 Mar 71 - 2:30 a.m.

Pants: We're glad there's another little something we can do for you, but before we do, need to be a little more certain of what we're doing. In your letter of 2/21/71 you say "one pair of each kind." Don't know what those you bought originally were like, didn't even look at the pants we sent, so don't know the difference between the two. Matter of fact had assumed the pants would be the same for all the different styles of jackets, and when I called HER to check on the price of the pants if bought separately, asked if they were all one standard style and was assured they were. Perhaps they are now. In your 1/25/71 (next to last paragraph) you say Lil prefers the "older style" with the legs less "Ivy Leaguish." Have heard the term but have never really understood what it meant. Tapering toward the bottom? Let us know. Might help to have measurement of the width at the bottom, because if the Ivy Leaguish ones are all SHE carries now SHE might be willing to make up a pair of the other.

Clippings, etc., which we send you, including tapes: We'll mark anything we want returned; otherwise assume we don't, and if you don't need it toss it out.

Hal: When he called the last time (28 Feb) it was from a pay phone in San Francisco, so I was able to give him your messages in second paragraph of your 2/17/71 about Property Owner and the other contact. He was very relieved about not having to do anything about the latter. Didn't say he had done anything about P.O. either, but the conversation was so rushed he even forgot to say what his new job was. He was very excited about having work again.

Memphis: A simple-minded question - why were the prison authorities so cooperative? Feel I should be able to figure it out but haven't be able to yet.

AP photos: Looked through the King file, found only two, neither of which seems to fit your description but we're sending them on the chance they might be of some help. File has remarkably few photos, and the type you describe we never would have discarded. Checked through the file through Aug 68, thinking those you're looking for might have been included in some round-up story, ditto the few magazine articles on the subject; no success.

Bedtime snack being prepared by No. 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ Cook and No. 1 Cook ready to eat it. No more to say at the moment, anyway.
