

Dear Other-Side-Of*Moaners, Attached is the uncorrected rough of an addition to a chapter of PMIII dealing with the Kennedys and their position and positions. It is titled Hades-Not Camelot. As I wearily work my way through Seigenthaler's depressing self-apology-propaganda, to this point, it struck me this is pertinent. In the course of writing it this early a.m., I found that almost all my clippings are either gone, to someone who borrowed them and didn't return them, or misfiled. The Star is adequate, but I had had the N.O. papers and others. So, for some time as close to leisure as Je gets, it would be helpful if, for the completeness of this part of the file on that hearing, I could have copies of any stories you have. It is not necessary for any writing, present or anticitable future, only for the completeness of a file that may some day be or be part of an archive, so there is no urgency, no rush.... After the mail today I hope to get to cutting PM and then PMIII, to become PM II, where I fear the passion, scorn and other emotion I poured into it in doing the whole blamed thing is about two weeks, not so much to get it done as to get it in my mind for the Halleck hearing, for which it was more than the basis, while not unwarranted, may be somewhat omnipresent as to dull the reader's emotions and reaction.... Lil has started the retyping of the new III in our format for private printing, on the off chance that becomes possible. Thereafter, I'll have a few copies to pass around, if I can find the funds for xeroxing (this also copyrighting) and it is possible that I can thereafter get the whole thing retyped double-spaced for offer to commercial publishers. Plans, hopes, perhaps someday reality... Meanwhile, when you can, let Lil know about the blanket/afghan for Je II. She is now lifting me another sweater I do not need from leftovers from a regular-sized afghan. I think one of mine will fit the man who made possible my getting some picture that otherwise I could not. I expect him soon. I'll then give him one of my surplus. How bad JD is so much slimmer than I am or was. Best regards, H

NO papers on hearing on JG getting pix, X-rays and other stuff, but only the February hearing. These are the clips I'm missing, and it is not urgent. I'd just like them to keep the file complete.
