

The first day after the 13th sandwich, 3 Dec 72.

Sorry this was overlooked, first time around going through the papers. Sending because I'm uncertain whether or not I've seen the name Thomas J. Visny anywhere else, and if you haven't you'll want it for your 500 (!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!) names. How wonderful that Lil was able to do it, and what a relief to know such a list exists. Now I won't have to! Had wanted to since very soon after Watergate began.

When I underline the stamped date it's to show the date is correct.

Not carded but will be. I have an awful feeling that I saw this name and filed without letting Lil card!

That 13th sandwich should have tasted GOOOOOOD!

Maybe when the Times is overup they save the stories and don't reset the date lines. You've had several cases, but none was dated or required a dateline.

There was with this a great Times editorial of 10/25, "The Price of Apathy". It concludes, "The problem is how to arouse Americans to the clear and present danger." If I didn't know better, really KNOW better, I'd say with some decent reporting by the NYTimes.

SFExam 11/28 conjectures EMK may not investigate. (He may never have intended to but may have used the committee's powers between sessions for a scooping up for later use.) This question has been aired several times recently. Thanks. 12/16/72
