

Ed Williams phoned tonight to extend a greeting. In the course of our conversation he reported a flurry of publisher interest in the Watergate or of effort to interest publishers, I could not be certain which because my head is clogged from an infection. Among those he named as potential authors is Bill Turner. I did not inquire as to his source. I expressed perplexity that Walter Sheridan has not made some such arrangement, unless his arrangements with the Dems. precludes it, and Ed said he has been doing a Hoffa book. HW 12/31/72
