

JAN 19 1972

Events may overtake us, but the way this Lattimer things is developing if what I've done has slowed down what I know was in the works and what I suspect was long enough, we may be able to turn it around. In any event, it has already developed to the point where I need every word he has said. The story apparently didn't make the eastern B wire and I don't know if I have the A wire in full, so if you have that, I'd appreciate it. At the best I am now certain that this man is sick, like Ochsner is sick, Welch is sick, politically very, very sick. He is also an incredible liar, so every new lie helps. He sees reds lurking behind each redwhite and blue signboard - everywhere, all trained guerilla fighters, all intent upon assassinating all true patriots. This time the other side pulled a real blooper, and only our weakness keeps us from exploiting it. We have more than enough except for our weakness, so until we can get the right opportunity, we'd best work to add powder to our ultimate firing. If you have anything, thanks. HW
I expect the Kaplan expert tonight, to remain until another friend comes when I take her to DC, he returns, and when he leaves I go to NYC, so working time is scant.