

Finished the long note on Scott with a few minutes before Lil will have breakfast ready. Sunday a treat, more than my usual sing gle egg: friend tomatoes! Well, after breakfast a walk and then back to writing. I'll think about the writing, not Scott, when I walk. When the two of you have time, I'd welcome your thoughts on what I've written in haste after a single hasty and interrupted reading. And I'd appreciate copies of anything else of his you see, as well as of the louder nuts. Not because I think they are agents but because I think they eliminate the need for agents and have none of the liability of agents. Especially do I solicit disagreement...Listening to WTOP all-news a short ref, one sentence, to a Post interest in Nixon financing. Ron Kessler has been working on this for a long time. He is good. I hope he comes up with something. Haven't gone out for the paper yet. May not be here with their labor troubles last night. HW 10/14/73
