if from the ellipsis of probable enclosures you have not gathered it I have a major King breakthrough from the tedium of going over all the b.s. and necessary detail of the investigation. (They do the detail work well, often as a cover for what they cover up.) I'll let the story wait. The key is the number 808. I also have confirmation of what Payne added to my work. With all the disinformation operations there may be a question about what I can do with this and what else I do expect to develop. Anticipating this I have reined in on the legal work surrounding the FOIA cases except for what JL will do and will do on others...The need to phoney a case provided inspiration for what was expected to be secret forever, what would have been foolish otherwise, risky. jdw-the owner of the local h&r block franchise is a rather backward type who is also afflicted with more than one person's share of real medical problems. I am certain of diabetes and of many surgeries. he has had no sensation in his feet for years. long ago his wife feared he would lose both feet, if not both legs also. last night she told lil that maybe i should get acupuncture. he has been going to an acupuncturist, chinese, in bethesda, one supervised by an anglo m.d. the acupuncturist has told him that while he may have a slight sensation with the entrance of the needle in 7-8 visits he should have sensation in his feet again. it has happened with the 7-8 visits in the future. hw 12/10/76
