

Dear Jim,

7/16/79

Your 7/12 came today. How it is working out with Hospice is great - for them as well as for you. However fine and able their p.r. woman is she has not lived long enough to accumulate your wisdom, experience and judgement and practical know-how. But of course it is wonderful for you because it gives you something of real meaning, very worthwhile activity, not merely make-work.

You are fortunate with each other.

Many thanks for the work on Call. I think that what you have done is enough to eliminate him as a possible ~~advised~~ ^{based} on the rest of what I know. I hope it was not too much trouble. I'm sure it is not worth any more time. Maybe I'll come accross the name of the right guy yet. It is becoming more and more apparent that he was right on the money is the stuff he told me after that Polan show.

The Groden story you enclosed got wide play but is not probable. Why fake photos and have the photos destroy the official story, as those do regardless of what Groden says about them. Makes no sense.

I'm particularly glad to get the Hinckle piece on Krieger and I'm going to use it on Shea, in part because he has not acted on my FOIA/Pa appeals and in part because although he doesn't realize it Weinstein conned him. He believes the Weinstein stuff, has become Weinstein's friend and wants to bring us together.

Dave will be here tomorrow p.m. and returns next p.m., to family at Stone Harbor, N.J. I look forward to being with him again and showing off the fine work Rae Barrett has been doing. I think he's going to fine 100% of the FBI JFK stuff ready for accessioning when it get to the univ. And I'm talking about more than 100,000 pages, too. (She has just been invaluable in searching what for her are unfamiliar King files for my use in preparing questions for JL to use in depositing FBI agents, which has started and is in temporary recess while DJ lawyer has European vacation.)

Our stickyweather has set in after the coolest early summer on record and it is not in the 90s, with little respite at night. Unless it is raining as soon as Lil is up I'm off for the woods with my largest cart and longest-handled pruners, following later with two different mowers, one set real high the other a third higher than usual to re chop with more safety and to make firewood removal after harvesting both easier. I've been getting more frequent dizzy periods, none yet serious but disconcerting. However, once the head clears I'm off to force circulation again. The result is that in addition to an enormous mulch pile and a very large stock of mulch I've laid in 3/4 cord of small wood for the inter's fires and yesterday bought a fire-lace type airtight store with which I expect to practically eliminate inter fuel-oil bills.

If whatever causes these periods of dizziness and odd head sensations passes off it will be as before and I'll be much less uneasy. I'm being careful, taking no chances with the chain saw, etc., but still work away and feel better each time I work up a sweat that takes an hour to stop pouring out.

The reference to acupuncture in the Hinckle piece makes me wonder if it has any usefulness in circulatory problems but I know of no source in this area and I'm sure the doctors would regard inquiry as sign of certain insanity.

Many thanks, our best wishes and congratulations on continuing such worthwhile endeavors.
