

By Morton Mintz

A former special counsel to President Nixon has rejected administration's broad the claims of immunity to questioning and says he will testify in behalf of a former Air Force official "brutally mistreated by his government."

The former aide-newsman Clark R. Mollenhoff-said executive privilege is being used to cloak an "unconscionable Air Force cover-up" in the case of A. Ernest Fitzgerald, who blew the whistle on cost overruns of $2 billion in the C-5A transport program and later lost his job. A Civil Service Commission examiner is holding hearings on the Fitzgerald case.

Mollenhoff already has given lawyers for Fitzgerald a "memorandum for the files" he prepared on Nov. 13, 1969, after meeting with Air Force officials on the Fitzgerald matter at the White House.

Mollenhoff also gave Fitzgerald's lawyers copies of let-ters to President Nixon and his counsel, John W. Dean III, in which he said:

• That for months after the Air Force Office of Special Investigations had established there was no foundation for vague charges that Fitzgerald vague charges that Fitzgerald had violated security and had a conflict of interest, ton Air Force officials continued to "smear" Fitzgerald by repeat ing the charges to Mollenhoff at the White House as well as at the White House as well as on Capitol Hill. • That Mollenhoff chal-lenged the officials, including Assistant Secretary Spencer J Schedler and Col. James Pew-itt, his executive afficer, to decument the report in write document the report in writing, but that they "stalled for weeks and months but never did admit that they had no ond attine case." • That even Mr. "Nixon could not have known of "the enounity of the crime," be-cause Air Force Secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr and his aides were able until recently to wrap the case in near-total secrety. secrecy.

That David, Wilson, an aide to Dean, had given the Air Force not only a copy of a letter Molienhoff wrote to Dean but also a copy of the 1960 memo on the receting with Schedler and Pewis • Teat, Dean said acted a choice nis kisse and was in Violler and hese papers that permitted itt to refuse to answer? He a conspiracy against Fitzger-as asserted by Mr. Nixon is a only "insofar as I can," he told "disservice" most of all to the William L. Sollee, a lawyer for President because "he is usually the one most in the dark about the petty and dishonest

Although Mollenhoff, now chief of the Washington bureau of The Des Moines Register, stands ready to testify, the Air Force has objected.

As a result, appeals hearing examiner Herman D. Staiman has asked Fitzergerald's lawyers to submit written an-swers to these questions:

Were Mollenhoff's White House communications and conversations with executive conversations with executive the right for instrument to branch officials "privileged"? Is Mollenhoff free to testify about them? Would he need prior White House authorization? Who can in-voke the prior White House withorization apart from the on Ian 30 repudiated the con authorization apart from the

them to fall into the hands of refused to say. Had he come those who may be involved in prepared to tell the whole truth?

"I came prepared to tell the • That executive privilege truth," but "the whole truth" Fitzgerald.

ally the one most in the beam of the petty and dishonest activities of his subordinates who control the flow of in-formation to the President." Seamans, testifying on Jan. 1969, as assistant secretary for financial management. "T" never received any instructions, but I will not say I did not receive any advice," Sea-mans said. "My view is that there should be executive privilege."

> Attorney Sollee said yesterday that next week he will file a paper asserting an unquali-fied right for Mollenhoff to testify without permission from on Jan. 30, repudiated the conwitness? Repeatedly in the hearing, Secretary Seamans, Assistant Secretary Scheduler and Col. Pewitt invoked the privilege. On March 7, for example, he met with Mollenhoff on Nov. 13, 1969, on the grounds that this was "privileged in "armation." Had someone directed Pew" rmation." Had someone directed Pew- "misspoke."