Agnew Urged by Advisers To Repudiate Watergate

Political Harm for '76 Drive Feared-Connally and Godwin Are Reported Reassessing Plans to Join G.O.P.

By BILL KOVACH

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, April 21 - integrity; but to do that he's Advisers of Vice President got to virtually move out on Agnew are urging him to dis- his own in a most direct kind associate himself from the of way and when asked about Watergate affair "in the most the President and Watergate, direct kind of way" to avoid he'll have to say, 'I repudiate what they see as a harmful po-the whole affair." litical impact reaching to the "But," the source asked in 1976 Presidential election.

significance of the Watergate to be said and maintain a poscase for nearly 10 months, ture . . . still not look like it many of those whose careers is an act of disloyalty?" are tied to the Republican party are reacting nervously to the issue, which is developing into national concern include the

For the Vice President, that reaction includes consideration that nearly one-third of those immediate problem.

"The Vice President and year. every other Republican is in a ginia, Mills F. Godwin, has dedifficult position because of cided to "reassess" an earlier this," the source said. "It has decision to accept the Republigot to be repudiated. It can be done. Spiro Agnew can do it obvious consternation, "How do After dismissing the political you go ahead and say what has

Indications of Concern

Indications of the growing following:

The latest Gallup Poll shows of a bold move to keep himself interviewed believe the Waterclear of the expected political gate affair reveals corruption fallout. According to a source in the Nixon organization, leadclose to the Vice President and ing the Gallup organization to familiar with strategy planning conclude that the issue could for a Presidential campaign in have a serious effect on Repub-1976, the matter presents an lican Congressional races next can nomination, if it is offered

because of his reputation for Continued on Page 25, Column 4

Continued From Page 1, Col. 7

at the June convention, to replace Gov. Linwood Holton, a Republican, who cannot succeed himself.

¶Reports by sources close to John B. Connally, formerly Democratic Governor of Texas, say that he, too, is reassessing plans to switch his party affiliation as a result of Watergate.

No Comment This Year

Although it is not known whether Mr. Agnew will act on advice that he move out on his own on the issue, he has not made a public statement on the matter since the 1972 campaign. His last major statement on Watergate was made in October when he said that "a to the affair than earlier admitted and before former Attorney calculated attempt to prove General John N. Mitchell concorruption on the part of the ceded prior knowledge of at-Administration has fallen flat tempts to plan bugging of the as a pancake in the eyes of Democrats. In a sampling of 1,528 adults, the Gallup poll the American people."

"We've seen it tried from conclusions: every angle," Mr. Agnew continued, "and yet there is nothing described the affair as "just but smoke. We haven't seen a politics," but nearly one-third bit of fire yet, and I'm not sure (31 per cent) thought it was a there's going to be any fire."

advisers are alarmed at the Administration. potential of Watergate to underplans. The immediate problem, that President Nixon had ad-according to those dealing with vance knowledge of the Water-gate situation while 32 per cent the matter, is damage to care-fully cultivated issues at the did not. Politically significant in heart of the Vice President's that sample is the fact that 42 political future—the issues of per cent who described themto the responsibility of the news the President had prior knowl-

The fear of possible damage the affair by the news media.

"The issue by these Agnew" "The issue," the Gallup organfrom the issue by these Agnew advisers appears to be sup-ization concluded, "has become 9, before President Nixon indicated publicly there was more Many leading p developed the following major

¶A majority (52 per cent) serious matter because it re-Now, however, Mr. Agnew's vealed corruption in the Nixon

Trour out of ten of those mine his personal political polled (41 per cent) believed law and order and challenges selves as independents believed

"How do you run on law and A large increase was report-order with this issue behind ed in the number of people you?" an Agnew adviser asked rhetorically. "The media issue last year's campaign, only 53 is in trouble too because you per cent said they had even condemn an irresponsible press heard of the matter but the and immediately the response recent sample found familiarity will come: 'Well, if it hadn't among 83 per cent, a figure debeen for The Washington Post scribed by Gallup as "extraorwe'd never have known about Watergate."

The fore of the well is the sample found familiarity among 83 per cent, a figure debeen for The Washington Post scribed by Gallup as "extraorwind in the well amount of attention devoted to amount of attention devoted to ported this week by findings of of such widespread concern that the latest Gallup poll, which it could seriously affect G.O.P. was taken between April 6 and fortunes in the next year's Con-

Many leading party members needed no poll to reach the a source who knows the former same conclusion. On April 11, Governor well said there was Anne Armstrong, counselor to "no question he has cooled off, President Nixon, expressed fear or at least delayed" his anthat the Republican party was nouncement largely because of being hurt nationally by ad-the way the Watergate incident verse exposure on the issue. has developed. She made the statement in support of one by Arizona Senator A similar reaction by Mr. Barry Goldwater, who had described Watergate as a "dagger President's re-election last year, in the heart" of the Republican had announced on March 5 party that could prove costly that he would accept the Reat the polls in 1974.

All members of the House of Representatives are up for reelection next year as well as 12 more ominous, however, Mr. Republican Senators. In an in-Godwin began to pull back. He formal Associated Press poll on will have to reassess that de-April 14, every Republican Sen-cision, he now says, if the tion as a channel for future am- adverse effect on the Virginia bitions for some conservative political situation." Democrats has also been weakened.

Sources close to Mr. Connally reported that he was "reconsidering" a decision reached earlier to switch his party affiliation. Mr. Connolly, who served as President Nixon's Treasury Secretary and who organized Democrats for the President's Re-election campaign last year, could not be reached for comment.

One high-ranking Republican party official in Texas had told friends privately that Mr. Connally would make his announcement of his party switch by April 12. Yesterday, however, publican nomination.

As the Watergate affair grew ator expressed concern that the political fallout from Waterissue would hurt the party in gate intensifies and if "it ap-Apparently the party's attrac- pears to be having a strongly