Yesterday, Fimilay Thesday: Thad delivereda copy of a letter wealed to a raid Alch, the child of a letter and Alch as my attorney. Yesterday afternoon Sirica called a recommendate for reday for me, Alch, all of the defense attorneys, and the prosecuting attorneys to difind out what my letter was all about. Concurrently, Alch was on the phone to me several times trying to patch maided up.

I had advised Alch brottly that the reason for his dismussal was his pressing the defense issue on ce, or trying to, of placing the blace for the operation on the company where it did not belong. I repeated that I would not stand for it, nor would I sit still for any other delense attorney trying to do it

Alch met with me this morning and assured se the issue was dead, that he would not try it again, nor would anyone else. We not with the judge and the others and in a brief session answered his questions, without disclosing exactly what was at stake. He obviously knew something was up and is now alerted. We agazza texpackinthing compandwised him that we were going to give it a new try at working together. The press was there and were also alerted, but they have not yet dug up the reasons behind the whole thing.

Bittmen was shook and has obviously taken the heat on this, because of my violent reaction. He shoold because he had transmitted to Alch the original idea. We know of ccurse who passed the idea to Bittman

We took them up to the brink on this, and I don't believe they will try it again. Breaking it to the press could have gotten some of them disparred and broken the whole mess wide open.

Let's trust that this much of it is now behind us. Now we'll work on the other problems at hand. Keep the faith.

> Paul F. Caynor 4029 35th St Forth Arlington, Virginia