The Washington Merry-Go-Round

THE WASHINGTON POST

Saturday, Dec. 1, 1973 BII

Rep. Sikes Recovers

By Jack Anderson

A rueful Rep. Robert Sikes (D-Fla.) has learned that shipping salmon, he added, "were very frozen fish by military mail can good." cause complications. He almost lost a package of salmon in the President Nixon's political op-Air Force transportation sys- erators, Murray Chotiner and currently investigating allegatem.

Sikes has a weakness for fresh Alaskan salmon. He acquired a few fish while he was in Alaska $1 million offer to a $10.3 mil- with the contract. recently, froze them for ship-lion settlement. ping and put them aboard a military plane bound for Andrews Air Force Base, outside Wash- tion Co., a St. Paul firm, for cost ington.

Inadvertently, Sikes' salmon got mixed up with the armed forces courier mail and wound up at Ft. Meade, Md. An Army lieutenant plunged his hand into the mailbag and came up with the cold fish.

cer called the congressman's of- tlement up to $9 million. fice and informed the staff of the whereabouts of Sikes' fish. through former White House If the congressman wanted aide Peter Millspaugh, brought | reached." them, said the lieutenant, he in Dent. For a $2,500 fee, Dent could come and get them.

front door delivery. A Sikes aide stead Veterans Administration other 13 claims that were discalled the military liaison office |Donald Johnson accepted an aron Capitol Hill, and the young |bitrary $10.3 million settlement. lieutenant hastened to Washington to deliver the frozen fish in person. He apologized profusely, say our sources, for his impertinence.

Footnote: Sikes acknowledged that he had visited was performed prior to the ex-Alaska but said the fish were ecution of the settlement agree-knew nothing about them, he the "overbearing officer." The these blistering allegations:

Political Squeeze-Two of Harry Dent, helped run up a tions," the GAO reported, "that contractor's claim against the the contractor violated the Veterans Administration from a False Claims Act" in connection

The whopping settlement was paid to the Donovan Construcoverruns on an $18 million hos- shouldn't have been used, it was pital construction project at Northport, Long Island.

The VA first offered to settle the claim for $1 million. This was rejected by the contractor, John Donovan, who hired Chotiner to apply political pres-Sourly, the naive young offi-sure. Chotiner worked the set-

Then Donovan, operating pressed for outside arbitration, Sikes, it turned out, wanted which the VA turned down. In-Now the General Accounting Office has charged that the $10.3 million was paid without validating the contractor's claim. 'No audit by a government sent to him by "a friend." He ment," contended the GAO.

• Many of the costs claimed by Donovan, said the GAO, were "of dubious allowability."

• The Justice Department "is

• GAO investigator questioned "the total cost method' used by the VA in reaching the settlement. This method asserted, without certain prerequisites. "We have found no evidence that any of these conditions were met in this case," declared the auditing agency.

• Within the VA, officials differed widely over the size of the settlement. "Knowledgeable individuals," according to the GAO, supported settlement figures "less than half of that

• The contractor made six apamount."

and Dent, nevertheless, magi-funds until GAO's questions agency of the contractor's claim | cally overcame all these deroga- have tory facts. Sources close to the solved." GAO investigation point out that

Johnson's job has been hanging In a private, four-page letter in balance and, therefore, that said, until he got the call from to Johnson, the GAO also made the political clout of Chotiner and Dent could have influenced Johnson's decision.

> Johnson admitted that Chotiner had dropped by and had mentioned Donovan was his client. But Johnson claimed they never discussed the settlement. Chotiner told us he had "always followed the practice never to discuss my clients' affairs."

Dent said he had "talked to Don Johnson and one or two of his assistants a couple of times." This was disputed by Johnson, who insisted: "He's never contacted me." The administrator admitted only that he was "certainly aware" of Dent's role on behalf of the Donovan firm. In any event, Johnson denied playing a major part in the settlement.

Footnote: The GAO probe of the $10.3 million deal was requested in late August by hardworking Sen. Alan Cranston (Dpeals that were denied by the Calif.). He has called for public Contract Appeals Board, an-hearings on the matter and a missed with prejudice. Yet the tor's claim. Sen. William Prox-GAO charged: "It is our under-standing that these claims are Veterans Appropriations subnow included in the settlement committee, told us through a spokesman that he "would op-The intervention of Chotiner pose appropriations of these been completely re-

°1973, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.