Jacobsen-Connally Scene Described

By Jack Anderson

Among Watergate investigators privy to Jacobsen's account. the episode has become known as the "toilet incident."

It happened when John Con-Texan-"Big John," his friends called him—was then the rage but that he twice rejected it. in Washington. Almost everyone agreed he was presidential tim-

He let everyone around him know he was serving at a sacrifice. His government salary didn't provide him with enough pocket money, he complained. to live in the high style to which he had become accustomed. He would have to start selling off his investments, he bemoaned, if he stayed around Washington for long.

His lament did not go unheeded. His close friend Jake Jacobsen picked up $10,000 from the Associated Milk Producers, Inc., stashed half of it in the bills could be traced. So he a safe deposit box and brought allegedly arranged to bring Jathe remaining $5,000 to the cobsen a second, substitute bun-Treasury Department.

As Jacobsen has described Meanwhile, Jacobsen the incident to Watergate inves-called before a grand jury tigators, he handed over the where he loyally repeated the Dairy lobbyist Jake Jacobsen cash in five crisp, $1,000 packets cover story. But the FBI broke over North Vietnam." has described as sordid a scene, to Connally. The smiling secre-down his story, and the grand if his secret confession is true, tary carefully removed the jury indicated him for perjury. as ever has occurred in the wrappers, strode into his pri- He was also indicted about the Treasury Department's highest vate bathroom and flushed the same time in an unrelated savtelltale wrappers down the toi-lings-and-loan case. let, Jacobsen has alleged.

When we reached Connally for comment, he listened in uncharacteristic silence to the account of the toilet incident. nally was Secretary of the denial he has made in the past. Then he quietly repeated the Treasury. The bold, booming He said that he was twice offered the $10,000 milk payment

> The reluctant Jacobsen has told Watergate prosecutors, quite to the contrary, that he delivered the money to Connally in two $5,000 installments.

After the milk scandal came under investigation, Jacobsen has related, a repentant Connally brought back the hot $10,-000. The two friends agreed N. Mitchell. upon a cover story. Jacobsen promised to say the milk money had been rejected by Connally and had been kept in a safe deposit box.

But in his later confession, Jacobsen has now alleged that Connally became nervous that dle in Austin, Tex.

who needs his constant atten-ply trails from 1967 to 1972. tion. So in a bid for leniency, he offered to cooperate with the prosecutors and gave them the incriminating details against Connally.

The FBI has now confirmed many of the details from bank records, travel vouchers and witnesses, such as the chauffeur the rendezvous with Jacobsen.

that Connally intervened in beformer Attorney General John

THE RAINMAKERS-There were flat denials when we reported on March 18, 1971, that Air Force rainmakers were seeding the clouds over the North Vietnamese spy trails "in an attempt to concentrate more available to Laird. The public rainfall upon the trails and to ought to demand an end to offiwipe them out."

Melvin Laird, who was questioned about this after he became Secretary of Defense, teswas tified before Congress on April 18, 1972: "We have never engaged in that type of activity

This was a barefaceedlie. The Defense Department has now admitted that the Air Force, indeed, conducted top secret rain-Jacobsen has an ailing wife making operations over the sup-

> In response, a sheepish Laird has corrected his testimony, explaining that he had been misinformed. He is claiming, in other words, that we had better Pentagon sources than he did.

In our story three years ago we gave specific details of the who drove Connally in a limou-hush-hush rainmaking project sine from Houston to Austin for including its code name "Intermediary-Compatriot." We re-The FBI has also established ported that the rainmaking experiments had started in 1967 half of the milk producers both and that the participants bewith the White House and with lieved they had "increased the precipitation over the jungle roadways during the wet sea-

> Our Pentagon sources say these details, which have now been officially confirmed by the Defense Department, were cial lying, even if it takes a few more perjury prosecutions to do

(C) 1974 United Feature Syndicate, Inc.