JudgeAsks Broader 'Bug' Trial

By Lawrenece Meyer Washington Post Staff Writer

The judge who will preside at the trial of seven men charged in connection with the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic neadquarters at the Watergate said yesterday that the trial should cover a broader area than the narrow limits the prosecution has indicated it will cover.

"This jury is going to want to know what did these men go into that headquarters for?" Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica said. "Was their sole purpose political espionage? Were they paid? Was there financial gain? Who hired them? Who started this?"

The comments by Sirica during a four-hour pretrial conference were the first indication that the trial may explore whether the seven men charged were operating on orders from higher authorities when they allegedly conspired to break in and bug the Democratic National Committee's Watergate headquarters June 17.

In the course of the wideranging conference, lawyers also argued that:

Sirica exercise some "control" over the press in order to prevent prejudicing the jury. William O. Bittman, lawyer for former White House aide E. Howard Hunt Jr., told Sirica that the press "has had a field day writing prejudicial articles. I think it should come to a halt and your honor has a right to stop it." Sirica indicated, over defense objections, that he would deal with the problem of trial publicity by sequestering the jury.

See WATERGATE, A14, Col. 1

WATERGATE, From A1

• The Los Angeles Times should be compelled, under the threat of contempt of court proceedings, to produce tapes and notes of an interview with Alfred C. Baldwin III, described by the defense as the government's key witness. Sirica, who made no ruling, indicated that a contempt citation was possible if the paper or its employees refused a court order to produce the ma-

According to federal investigators, the June 17 break-in was one incident in a yeardisrupt Democratic presidential campaigns on behalf of President Nixon's re-election. Besides Hunt, one other former White House aide, G. Gordon Liddy, is charged in connection with the alleged Watergate bugging. Liddy was counsel for the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President until he was fired after Barker's Florida bank account. refusing to answer the questions of FBI agents investigating the incident. James W. Mc-Cord Jr., security director of the President's re-election others.

During the hearing yesterday, Sirica asked Earl J. Silbert, principal assistant U.S.

attorney, if the government Bittmn argued that unere is testimony con- "no other reason" for sequescerning a $25,000 check and tering the jury if the "press another $89,000 that turned up in the bank account of Ber-this case." nard L. Barker, one of the seven defendants.

will offer evidence on the $25,-000 check and will also trace the $89,000, "not necessarily from its source, but part of its certain materials." way."

calling an alien to testify. The restricted out of-court state-$89,000, according to federal poration, went to Mexico and Florida bank account.

long campaign to spy on and tribution made by Dwayne An- or watch television. dreas, a Minnesota investor, who gave the money last April told a reporter that he wanted to Kenneth Dahlberg, Midwest Sirica to control the conduct Republican finance chief. Dahlberg subsequently converted the money to a cashier's check and gave it to Maurice Stans, chief national fund raiser for the President. The check later also turned up in Silbert said there will be 'some evidence" concerning these funds. Sirica asked if Silbert would show the motive and intent of the evidence. Silcommittee at the time of the bert said he will present testialleged incident, also has been mony "from which the jury charged in the indictment may draw a variety of mowith Hunt and Liddy and four tives." Silbert said that circumstantial evidence will show a "prior association" by the defendants.

Although Bittman objected that testimony about the money should not be permitted since the indictment makes no mention of it, Sirica coming in and going out of the said that "on the question of motive and intent, the govern-

man and other defense law-definitely. yers asked Sirica to reconsider from six weeks to three threatening to hold anyone in months. Defense lawyers argued that the defendants for sequestration.

will exercise some restraint in Silbert responded that under "the First Amendment Silbert said the government and the right of a free press, there is no way that the press can be restricted. . . You can't ask the press not to print

In October, Sirica issued a To trace the $89,000 fully, broad order drafted by Bitt-Silbert said, would require man and Silbert that severely ments by anyone associated investigators, originated in the with the trial. The order was bank account of a Texas cor- criticized as too broad and too vague and Sirica relaxed it. wound up in the form of four Sirica yesterday said he would cashier's checks in Barker's tell the jury that they were being sequestered on his own The $25,000 check that Sil- motion and he denied defense bert referred to is believed to requests to simply instruct the represent a $25,000 cash con- jury not to read newspapers

> During a recess, Btitman of reporters in the courtroom. In addition, Bittman said, he wanted news stories about the trial limited to the evidence the jury actually hears. "Testimony out of the presence of the jury shouldn't be reported," Bittman said. With Sirica maintaining that the jury will be squestered, however, Bittman said the whole question is "moot."

Sirica announced yesterday that he is making arrangements with U.S. Marshal Anthony Papa for accommodating the press.

Bittman also asked that Sirica immediately order The Los Angeles Times to turn over the tapes and notes of its interview with Baldwin, who has described himself as the man who monitored telephone calls Democratic headquarters. Bittman said that if the Times rement should be allowed confused to produce the materials siderable latitude." after the trial had started, ap-Later in the hearing, Pitt- peals could delay the trial in-Sirica asked both governhis earlier announced decision ment and defense lawyers to to sequester the jury. Lawyers present him briefs before he for both sides offered esti-rules on a subpoena of the mamates that the trial could take terials. Sirica said he was not contempt but he told a reporter that a contempt citawould be blamed by the jury tion was possible if the Times resists a court order.