Former Watergate Lawyer Sues Nixon, Campaign Aides

By John Hanrahan Washington Post Staff Writer

The former lawyer for four of the Watergate conspirators, claiming intense pressures on fees, he is entitled to $10 milhis clients to get them to fire lion damages for "malicious him as their attorney, yesterday sued President Nixon and client contract." others for $10 million in damages and $113,500 in legal fees he says are still owed him.

In the suit, New York attorney Henry B. Rothblatt alleges that the pressures were applied and he was fired after he refused to go along with a security and was not a crimischeme to permit his clients to plead guilty at their trial last entered innocent pleas for January.

The purpose of the pressures, Rothblatt alleges in the suit, "was to obstruct justice lez, Bernard Barker and Frank by assuring that no testimony Sturgis through the first week concerning the Watergate break-in would be offered at ary. the trial" and thereby ensure that no White House or Nixon ported at the time that Water- chairman; former campaign officials would be gate conspirator E. Howard specific new charges against behind the scenes after the bach, the President's personal President Nixon or his subor- trial began to get the four dinates, alleges that Mr. men to plead guilty. Nixon must assume financial

White House or Nixon cam- prosecutor Earl J. Silbert of paign officials.

Rothblatt alleges that, in addition to the $113,500 in legal interference with an attorney-

This alleged interference caused "damage to his reputation" as a lawyer, Rothblatt says. The suit states that Rothblatt's clients in the case believed the Watergate break-in was in the interest of national nal act and, therefore, he had them.

Rothblatt represented Eugenio Martinez, Virgilio Gonzaof the Watergate trial in Janu-

Hunt Jr., who had already their desires.

U. S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica then appointed Alvin Newmeyer Sr. to represent the four men for purposes of changing their pleas to guilty. Sitrica accepted the pleas after the four men denied they had been promised anything by Hunt or anyone else in return for their pleas.

Rothblatt's suit, filed by attorney Robert M. Price in Superior Court here yesterday, also lists as defendants:

The Finance Committee to Re-elect the President (FCRP): The Committee for the Reelection of the President (CRP); Maurice Stans, the finance committee chairman; John N. Mitchell, the former attorney general and former The Washington Post re- | re-election committee White House aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, and John The suit, which raises no pleaded guilty, was working Caulfield; Herbert W. Kalmattorney; Jeb Stuart Magruder, former White House aide When Rothblatt refused to and deputy campaign chief, responsibility for activities undertaken in his name by clients, they notified chief Gordon Liddy and Hunt.