Kalmbach Firm Got Favorable Rule on Fund

By Sanford J. Ungar Washington Post Staff Writer

vention to San Diego.

authorized to approve payments from the Nixon campaign's secret intelligence-

His firm, Kalmbach. De-gathering fund.

A California law firm head- | Marco, Knapp and Chillinged by President Nixon's per-sonal attorney obtained a rul-Beach and Los Angeles, is gening from the Justice Departerally regarded as having ment last January endorsing great influence within the specific transcents. The Richthe legality of corporate con-Nixon administration.

tributions to help bring the In a letter signed by senior 1972 Republican National Conpartner Frank DeMarco Jr. The attorney, Herbert W. asked the Criminal Division Kalmbach, has been identiof the Justice Department "for the firm" last Jan. 3, it whether it would be legal for Watergate bugging investiga-San Diego businessmen to tion as one of five persons ontribute money to attract the GOP Convention.

The letter said that the advice was sought by "certain Marriott; United Air Lines, the specifically identified.

Within two weeks, John C. Kennedy, chief of the Fraud real estate firm. Section in the Criminal Division, wrote back saying that the contributions would be legal if they were made "for the primary purpose of bringing the political convention to the community."

According to published reports, Kenney's response was later shown by Kalmbach and other Nixon fund-raisers to potential Republican contributors in California.

letter and the Justice Department response were inserted into the record during last was also entitled to disburse. spring's Senate hearings on Richard G. Kleindienst's nomination as Attorney General. covert collector" at least $200,000 by the Internew campaign contribution renational Telephone and Tele-porting law went into effect. graph Corp. to help the San Among those from whom Diego Convention and Visitors, Kalmbach reportedly raised Bureau subsidize the conven- money over the years were Administration never succeeded in establish- urance executive W. Clement ing that the contribution was Stone, Detroit industrialist illegal or that it was linked to Max Fisher and Arthur K. the settlement of three fed-Watson, former U.S. ambaseral antitrust cases against sador to France. ITT, as suggested in a memo allegedly written by ITT lob- bach reportedly byist Dita D. Beard.

Citing a labor dispute as the contributions from spotlight, represents The Richard Nixon Foundation and The Stans Foundation, named for Maurice H. Stans, former Secretary of Commerce who heads the Nixon fund-raising effort again this year as he did in 1968.

HERBERT W. KALMBACH ... sought convention

Other major clients of the Kalmbach firm include the Marriott Corp., headed by Nix-University of Southern California, and Coldwell, Banker and Co., a major California

Kalmbach himself is reportedly a key figure in the littleknown Lincoln Club, an exclusive group of wealthy California businesmen whose major function has apparently been the financing and promotion of Mr. Nixon's political career.

Through the Lincoln Club and his role as close associate of Stans, Kalmbach has had a major part in raising some of Both the Kalmbach firm's the secret campaign funds, which, according to the Watergate investigation sources, he

One published report last winter referred to him as "the One of the issues in the racing to raise money before hearings was a contribution of the April 7 deadline when the California oil tool millionaire opponents Henry Salvatori, Chicago ins-

At one point in 1970, Kalm-Europe to collect Republican reason, the GOP later moved and other U.S. ambassadors, its convention to Miami Beach. including Walter H. Annen-Kalmbach, whose name has berg in London.