Mr. John Dear, Counsel
House Judiciary Committee
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Dear,

Today I received what I believe might be significant evidence relating to Howard and Dorothy Hunt and the source or sources of the money they received and dispensed. It is a list of the serial numbers of the money Mrs. Hunt had in her purse at the time of her death. This seems to have been of interest in no investigation prior to yours. If you are interested, I recognize that this may be rather late for you. But if you want to conduct any investigation, I'll be glad to provide a copy of this list and other information I believe relevant.

Contrary to news accounts, all the money was not in $100 bills. And what I saw reported nowhere, she had it in two separate wallets.

The remaining official records in Chicago are no longer complete with regard to her other possessions.

I am writing a Watergate book. I am nearing the end of the rough draft. I would appreciate it if you would add me to any press list you may have for whatever releases you make. If this could include the volumes already released it would be quite helpful, as would whatever books will follow.

That your investigation has gone into areas of evidence that seem to have been ignored is encouraging.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
