

... Club, ... agent ...
Sane negotiated the sales. ... Earl Wilson has added a chapter, "The Blonde and the President," to his forthcoming Putnam book "Show Business Laid Bare," and what he has to say about an alleged affair between Marilyn Monroe and John F. Kennedy has been sold by agent Arthur Pine to Paris-Match, the London
Sunday People, the German periodical Quick and one of the magazines in Italy owned by Rizzoli. The latest word was that two Rizzoli publications were competing for the material. ... PW's rundown on the published works of convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt ("Trade News," July 2) tallied 44, with two new ones "just around the corner." Hunt's agent Donald MacCampbell notes that, counting reissues, his incarcerated client will have a total of 19 books coming out this fall—a record ... Hubbard Press, of Northbrook, Ill., a house with an extensive juvenile line, has obtained U.S. distribution rights to "Fables of Leonardo da Vinci," being published by Collins of London.
This first English translation is by Bruno Nardini, an Italian publisher and, like Leonardo, a Tuscan.
