CONGRESS TO SCAN USE OF TAX AUDITS G /とタ/マ3 Joint Panel to Study Charge

That Administration Tried to Punish Its Enemies

By EILEEN SHANAHAN Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 28-The joint tax committee of Congress ordered today an investigation of allegations that the Nixon Administration has used tax audits to punish its enemies and help its friends.

The joint committee, whose membership consists of the senior members of the House Ways and Means Committee and the Senate Finance Committee, approved the investigation after a very brief discussion and with no recorded dissent at a meeting that had been called for another purpose.

The chairman of the joint committee, whose formal name is the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, is Representative Wilbur D. Mills, Democrat of Arkansas.

The joint committee instructed its staff to examine the tax returns and any audits of all persons who have been men- from Charls E. Walker, then tioned publicly as possibly receiving favorable or unfavorable ury.

Continued on Page 22, Column 4

Ch29/73

the Long Island newspaper Newsday, was explicitly men-tioned by John W. Dean 3d, the former White House counsel, as having been audited because of had informed Mr. Thrower that his role in preparing an unfa-"the White House had request-been introduced at the Water- refused to say what member of gate hearings indicated that the White House staff he had members of the White House dealt with on the matter. staff repeatedly tried to pressure Internal Revenue to perform tax audits on persons considered to be enemies of the Nixon Administration.

Commissioners Resisted

The memerandums indicated that the first two men to hold the position of Commissioner of Internal Revenue under President Nixon had generally resisted these pressures. They were Randolph W. Thrower and Johnnie M. Walters.

The man who now heads I.R.S., Donald C. Alexander, promised the director of the staff of the joint committee, Laurence N. Woodworth, his "full cooperation" in the investigation.

In a related development, Mr. Thrower said that he had been told that President Nixon personally wanted a former New York policeman, John J. Caul-field, appointed to head the I.R.S. Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division. Mr. Thrower resisted the appointment on the ground that Mr. Caulfield had no qualifications for such a high-ranking administrative job.

Confirmation by Greene

Mr. Caulfield was named by Mr. Dean on Tuesday as the man who had forwarded to Internal Revenue Mr. Dean's orders that Mr. Greene be audited. Mr. Dean said that Mr. Caulfield subsequently reported back to him that the audit had been undertaken, and Mr. Greene has confirmed that he was, in fact, audited at the time mentioned by Mr. Dean.

Mr. Thrower, who was reached by telephone in Mexico, where he is vacationing, said that he first heard that the White House wanted Mr. Caulceiving favorable or unfavorable Mr. Walker indicated that treatment by Internal Revenue. "Mr. Caulfield was a person One person, Robert Greene of who had worked close to the vorable news article on Charles G. Rebozo, a friend of Presi-field" and agreed that he had been told by a member of the Commissioners Resisted While no other alleged tar-President personally wanted get of a politically motivated Mr. Caulfield in the job. But he audit has been discussed by said he had never heard this name, memorandums that have from the President himself. He

Continued From Page I, Col. 7 field appointed to the I.R.S. job in mid-1970 in a telephone call Under Secretary of the Treas-

Mr. Walker said that after he and Mr. Thrower had looked The second time around, the into the requirements of the I.R.S. job and into Mr. Caul-field's qualifications, they had decided that he was unquali-fied. Mr. Walker said that he had passed on this conclusion qualified had passed on this conclusion qualified. to his unidentified contact on But, he said, the White House the White House staff and had -again through Mr. alker-inreceived, shortly thereafter, "a sisted that the division be reshort, sharp memo that said, in effect, 'This is not satisfactory; Caulfield is going to be put in that job.'" sisted that the division be re-organized so that Mr. Caul-field would report directly to no one except Commissioner no one except Commissioner

But the matter was allowed Thrower himself, thus bypassto drop by the White House ing all of the career bureauc-staff in the fall of 1970.

Mr. Thrower confirmed the Mr. Thrower said he though essential points in Mr. Walk-it most undesirable for a law er's version of the matter and enforcement organization to be went on to describe a second supervised by no one excep attempt that the White House the one and only political ap made several months later to pointee in the I.R.S., the com put Mr. Caulfield in a top job missioner himself. All othe in the Alcohol, Tobacco and I.R.S. jobs come under th Firearms Division. Civil Service.