Sorry I was so cryptic on the Stone money. I started out working on a story about small time spies in Illinois politics. Some of Gov. Walker's people believe that these local spooks have a connection to DC. I don't have anything more than insinuations right now. One of the spies was hired by the Stone Foundation after she was caught with her hot little hands in the wrong file drawer. The $15,000 is the best thing I still have going. They are very helpful with the story they give me, of course it could be a cover. Nothing has been published by me yet, when it does you of course will get a copy. If I don't come through you are welcome to what I have also so a book.
