PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17
(AP)—Three members of the Watergate cover-up jury say they would agree with any sentences Judge John J. Sirica gives the convicted Nixon advisers.

"We're not the ones that pass judgment," said juror Roy Carter. "This is up to the judge."

Carter and two other jurors were together Thursday to tape a Mike Douglas television show. It will be shown nationally beginning Jan. 30.

"I feel that if he does pardon them, he's justified and it's all right with me," said juror Anita King.

She said the language on some of the White House tape recordings was surprising at first.

"I never thought the President would use such language, specifically knowing that this was something maybe historical. I was really shocked," said alternate juror Joanne Williams.
