

A065NU

yyxwyyfNU

ANDREWS NL 370

NEW ORLEANS AP -Dean Andrews, a hip talking lawyer who got involved ~~got caught up~~ in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's assassination probe, languished in jail Monday awaiting sentence on a perjury conviction.

After deliberating nearly three hours, a five-man jury early Monday found him guilty of lying to a grand jury when asked about the mysterious "Clay Bertrand" of Garrison's investigation.

Andrews, 44, was escorted to the parish prison. There he must stay at least until Criminal Dist. Court Judge Frank J. Shea pronounces sentence. Andrews could receive a maximum of five years on each of three counts.

Shea has not set a date for fixing sentence.

Bertrand, according to Garrison's theory of an alleged New Orleans-based plot to kill President John F. Kennedy, was an alias used by retired businessman Clay L. Shaw. Shaw has been charged with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to kill the president.

The trial, first to grow out of Garrison's controversial probe, appears to have little bearing on the district attorney's assassination conspiracy case.

Specifically, the rotund Andrews was convicted of lying when he testified March 16 that he could not say if Shaw and Bertrand were the same person, that the only way he might recognize Bertrand if he saw him on the street would be by "instinct only," that he did not tell his private investigator that Bertrand had asked him to represent Oswald in Dallas.

The jury acquitted Andrews on two other counts—that he lied when he told of his dealings with another figure in the Garrison probe—David W. Ferrie—and when he said Bertrand never offered him a fee to represent Oswald.

The name Bertrand entered into the investigation through Andrews' testimony to the Warren Commission. He said a man he knew as Bertrand telephoned him Nov. 23, 1963—the day after the assassination—and asked him to go to Dallas and represent Oswald. The Warren Report identified Oswald as the lone assassin.

Garrison contends Shaw, Oswald and the Ferrie conspired here in September 1963 to kill Kennedy. Ferrie, a free-lance pilot, died last February just a week before Garrison says he was to have been arrested.

Under Louisiana law, Andrews will be allowed to make bond pending appeal only if his sentence is less than the maximum five years.

Recalled by the grand jury on June 28, Andrews identified Bertrand as Eugene C. Davis, 42, a French Quarter bar owner. Davis promptly denied ever using such an alias.

Asked why he hadn't identified Davis at his appearance before the jury in March, Andrews replied, "So I lied. So I committed perjury. I don't know what I said."

Andrews then told the grand jury that he was positive Shaw was not the Bertrand he knew.

SPSP60 pcd Aug 14