

the trial

To portray it for you... Channel 4 has extraordinary plans and people.

We cannot put our cameras in the courtroom. So, we have built an exact replica of the courtroom where the Shaw trial will be held...placed it in our massive studio, along with life-size cut-out figures representing the principals who will be seen at the trial.

Thus, you can follow all the drama...all the history-making developments of this trial. During the new News time on Channel 4, 10:00 P.M., you'll see Robert Moore report in depth every detail of the trial. Mature, vigorous, with experience to give you the views, Robert Moore is the man to watch, each night at 10 P.M.!

Reporting the fast-breaking headlines of the trial, will be your Eyewitness anchor man, Bill Elder at 5:00 P.M. He will bring you up-to-date on details of the trial minutes after they occur.

Again at 6:00 P.M., Eyewitness anchor man Ron Hunter will fill you in on the day's action from this explosive event. He will fill you in on details of the trial as they unfold, and also summarize the day's events.

To bring you the behind-the-scenes stories, the human interest side of this trial, Channel 4 will present reporter Rosemary James throughout the day and at 5, 6 and 10 P.M. Rosemary is the reporter who broke the Shaw story and has written a book on it.

Follow the trial coverage faithfully on 4.

Leading the way...
always
