

Stump Water

By PENN JONES JR.

The heat let up for Sunday, but was back at it again on Monday. Only reached 90° on Sunday! Still hot and dry. Maize is being harvested with about half a crop in prospect. Maybe 1500 lbs. to the acre.

Ever read the letters by H. L. Hunt published in the Dallas papers? They are a scream. In the one published in The Herald on July 22, Hunt has become a name dropper. He even gave General A. C. Wedemeyer's address. Making it easy for all fellow rightwingers to keep in touch, we suppose.

Dr. Edward Teller, father of the H-bomb, often stops off in Dallas and Hunt goes out to the airport for a "short visit." Ain't that peachy.

Wonder what they talk about? Is Hunt telling Teller how to make money, or is Teller telling Hunt how to make h-bombs?

But in the last paragraph, Hunt gets down to business. He warns, "The best informed in the military field feel that it is practically national suicide for the United States to fail to develop the ABM system. . ."

He never quits working. Wish I had a few liberal friends who loved to work like that. Maybe it is just easier to work when you are worth billions.
