Hanoi Officials Hint War May End Before Election

[Reuter from Peking]

North Vietnam's Morale Unshaken

by Jack Anderson

NEW YORK TIMES, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6

Peking Report Says Hanoi Hints War's End Near Election Time

PEKING, Sept. 5 (Reuters)— Hanoi indicated that North Senior North Vietnamese offi-Vietnamese officials had also cials have hinted that the Indo-said there was an equal possicials have hinted that the Indochina war could possibly end before or shortly after the American Presidential election in November, travelers back from Hanoi said here today.

The visitors, who had talks with officials just below the level of North Vietnam's three leaders, said this was the first time they had heard even a cautious note of optimism from Hanoi channels about the possibility of a cease-fire in a limited time.

The reports came 24 hours

limited time.

The reports came 24 hours after the former Cambodian head of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, told reporters here that a few days ago Premier Choù En-lai said there was a possibility of President Nixon's stopping the war just before the election or a month or two after. after.
The returned visitors from

Reuter story longer and