

Advertisement for $1,000 reward to anyone"who can specify any statutory law stating that a public official has the right to treat official documents as private property or has been entitled to take tax deductions on gifts of such documents to any government agency or private institution. A bonus of $500 will be paid if any such law is cited by the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation as justification for the tax deductions taken by President Nixon or any previous President."

Ad is signed by M.B. Schnapper, Public Affairs Press, 419 New Jersey Avenue, SE Washington, D.C.