

AP Wirephoto

Greetings

Former President Nixon, in what appeared to be a gesture of goodwill, waved his putter at onlookers who live at homes just off the Shorecliffes Country Club in San Clemente. The former commander in chief was accompanied on the September golf outing by an aide and two Secret Service agents. The photo was released yesterday.