

SFChronicle

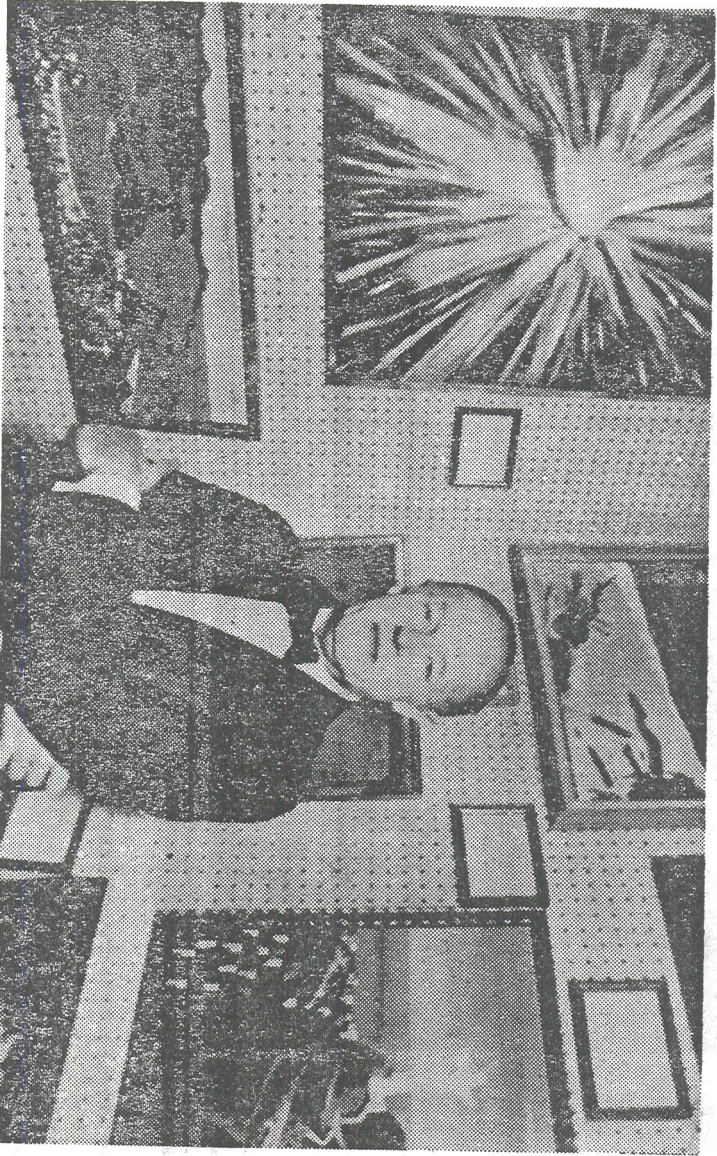

MAY 12 1977

The Howard Hunt Show

By last night Howard Hunt had been paid $7500 for nine paintings he did while serving 32 months in prison for the Watergate burglary.

Thirty-nine paintings, ranging in price from $350 to $4000 — over-priced, a local critic said — had gone on display Tuesday in Hunt's one-man show at the Carriage House Gallery in Miami Beach.

The artist came to the opening in a tuxedo and posed with some of his creations.

AP Wirephoto