

10/24 Whataday! By 8 p.m. I have returned from mailing 13 letters, one of 1500 words to the USATTY in Balt. In response (partial) to his trickery, one of 1,000 to an appeals judge in DC protesting my non-acceptance as a legal pauper for purpose of appeal in an FOI suit and besides the others, one in which I did a 2,500 word motion in a civil suit where I'm trying to collect more than $800 owed me by a book wholesaler who is within striking distance. When I was at the PO I was across the street for the machine on which I can make copies 2" longer than the enclosed from today's Post, so here it is! In retrospect, maybe it is a good thing for the baddies that I'm getting old and tired. Now I think I'll take some Maalox in anticipation, read today's LBJ rewriting of history, and go to bed so that when I get up early, as I fear I will with the stack untouched, I'll have had a fair night's sleep. I expect to drag stuff away from my machine to make copies in the a.m. and when I do I'll copy the last of the clips I was to return. With it atop the machine, I have to see it to use the machine, so I won't forget. Best, HW
