11/21 Re Gage, NYTimes, Secret Service political spying. This agency is so little known to the press that he mislocates it. The Treasury is accross from the White House, but the SS's protective Research part is at 1800 G, St. several blocks on the other side. Warn<sup>er</sup> is more than a spokesman. He is the director of p.r. And I thought it odd, with all the men he has protected, that Tom Kelley s office has autographed pictures of the present regime only. There seemed to be a basic change in his attitude toward me when he consulted DJ about a request I made, one he had ~~always~~ already granted only to have the Archives intercept and reject. The NYT in S-I 11/3/72. H

Re Lohr*Bailey's "European Gress Review", KPFA 11/12/72, he "preventive counter-revolution against a presumed way of life" concept reminds me of the distinction I made convention time, between reform and change. Tere would not have been genuine apprehension if the fat cass though no more than reform impended. To them change is revolution. They can't permit a genuinendifference between the parties, a meaningful and basic choice in elections. We have our own one-party system. Sacred. Off McGovern. H

11/21/72 Today's Post has mere mention of the Supreme Court's rejection of Garrison's appeal. In this case I agree with it for he made no case where he could have. In fact, if it affirms all of the lower-court decision, it is an excellent decision in ways I've not heard mentioned. I have a copy of the court of appeals ruling and I think of Christenberry's. If Cesar gets this, I'll have a copy if you should want it. H
