Dear Hal:

Here I come again. This time Weisberg wonders, in connection with the enclosed story from the Washington Post, if you still have Cuban contacts, and, if you do, and if you have an opportunity, would they yield any information on the four Watergate Cuban defendants (Barker, Martinez, Gonzales and Sturgis-Fiorini) and the others mentioned in the third column: Felipe DeDiego, Reinaldo Pico, Angel Ferrer, Humberto Lopez and Iran Gonzalez.

Barker, now a Miami real estate man with an office in the same building with Bebe Rebozo, was Hunt's deputy at the Bay of Pigs. Sturgis (aka Fiorini) was there too. Ferrer sounds familiar.

If you have the time and an opportunity, I'm sure Weisberg would appreciate any crumbs.

Best,
