

There was a purpose in sending you the strong letter to Tom Miller. There is a new crop of the most paranoid and utterly irresponsible young assassination writers. I guess it began with Freep and Kunkin, who is also a crook. They have instant knowledge, instant understanding and fact is no impediment to anything. I should have captured his attention. I doubt I did any more. But I made a hurried effort. Note silence from Boston and consider in connection with WxPost's long story this a.m. The more I think of her the more this one resembled the waif. Except not apolitical but rather active in past and claiming to hold principles now. HW 1/7/74
