

Lear things he has mislaid the Hunt material he had xeroxed. He can't look for it for several days so if it has not reached you, in the course of time it will. He is predisposed this way but had been making a real and largely successful effort to be more systematic. And right now he is under great pressures in a variety of significant legal matter. He is about to file his first petition before the Supreme Court, entirely on his own and a precedent case that I had a hunch I'd be nudging in his direction, John Ray's. Plus my spectro papers. Plus the James mess. He's in deep and doing very well. Were this not enough, he may be facing oral surgery. Two years ago he was told a wisdom tooth was late coming and crooked pointing. It is now painful. HW 1/7/73
