

I've been pushing too much to do anything about Xmas but the wishes have been in my mind. Hope you are having a good holiday. Today again packaging books alone took four hours. Between that and the phone (including more FBI stonewalling) there is a big hunk out of every day. Takes Lil as long to make records. The volume is about all we can take care of and do anything else most days. Gratifying but a drag. No choice. Our best,
