2 Attica Inmates Tell U.S. Panel Brutality and Harassing Persist

By PAUL L. MONTGOMERY

Two present inmates of At- ing as to formulate recomtica prison who were allowed mendations for prison reform. to testify before a Con- Clark indicated impatience gressional committee here yesterday said that harassment and brutality against alleged participants in last fall's and talk and talk about reform rebellion were still going on.

"The only change is we've been getting two spoons of sugar at each meal," said Frank bear at each meal, said Frank bears at each meal said tain about lettering and tain about lettering and rehabilitation and that's all it is is, talk," he said. Lott, one of the inmates, speaking of the aftermath of the example of how a prison term September revolt. "Everything marks a man's life no matter else is worse."

der, read two affidavits from been unable to get a job be-Attica prisoners about incidents cause of his record. earlier this month. One told of taught me basket-weaving at an inmate being beaten and Attica," he said. "Ain't no jobs having communications from for basket-weavers around." his lawyer confiscated by "Dignity' Is Sought guards; the other told of a beating administered to a prisoner.

by the House Select Committee to forget that 98 per cent of the people in jail go back to the community eventually."

Lott said the his years to find the find the community eventually." been looking into the revolt, which resulted in the death of 33 inmates and 10 guards, and has already published a 486-page volume of testimony.

3 Prisoners Testify

Three Attica prisoners -Lott, Gary Haynes and Harlan drugs through correction offic-Eaton — were brought under guard to testify. Richard X.j Haynes, serving up to six Clark; one of the leaders of the years for forgery, said he had revolt who was since released been beaten and burned with on parole, appeared with his cigarettes after the revolt. He lawyer, Gerald B. Lefcourt. said racism was pervasive Haynes and Eaton were represented by Herman Schwartz of the University of Buffalo and becomes friendly with a black, Lott by Wilfred R. O'Connor the officers says its homosexand William E. Hellerstein of the Legal Aid Society.

Mr. Pepper explained in opening the three-hour hearing that the committee's purpose was not so much to find out what happened in the Attica upris-

He used his own case as an how much he may have re-Lott, who is serving a 55-formed. He said that since his year-to-life sentence for murrelease three weeks ago he had

'Dignity' Is Sought

The beginning of rehabilita-The hearings, at the United States Customs Courthouse in Foley Square, were conducted by the House Select Committee to a prisoner. The state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to forget that 98 per cent of the state seems to state seems t in prison he had personally seen three homosexual acts between prisoners and guards, and that traffic in narcotics between inmates and guards at Attica was common. In Cell Block B, he said, 22 of the 504 inmates were receiving ers before the revolt.

among the guards.

"If a white inmate like me uality," he said. "At Attica, we're all brothers. We're all being oppressed."

Eaton, who was convicted of statutory rape, said he could not complain about ill treatmen by the guards. "Maybe it's be-cause I'm older and I'm white, I don't know," he remarked.