Informer Says Berrigan Told of Entering Tunnels

By HOMER BIGART Special to The New York Tim

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 28-An ex-convict testified today that the ev. Philip F. Berrigan Md. versation that the priest had posed as an underground electrician and entered utility tunnels in Washington to deter-like the priest at Bucknell University, told him in a prison yard connels in Washington to determine the feasibility of blowing where he took courses in psyness, Boyd F. Douglas Jr., an chairman of the political sci-priest he had volunteered for medical tests that left scars on his arms and legs, which he testified was true, and that the Government had promised to reward day. The group is also charged with plotting raids on draft boards in other Eastern cities, the indictment alleges.

Douglas, who is a pudgy man with and block to provide the testified was not true.

The witness went on:

"Father Phil see any way any way and block to provide the testified was not true.

The witness went on:

"Father Phil see any way way any way any

Douglas, who is a dark pudgy man with a double chin and black hair brushed down over one side of his forehead, was a fairly relaxed witness brought to the prison early in May, 1970, to serve six years in Baltimore and Catonsville, ing mail for the priesa them up as an antiwar gesture. chology and political science The Government's main wit- and became acquainted with the ness, Boyd F. Douglas Jr., an informer for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said he acted during the spring and summer of 1970 as a tritusted courier between Father Berrigan, who was his fellow prisoner at the Federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, and a group of antiwar activists.

He said he soon become disturbed by the messages and started copying them even before the F.B.I. enlisted him as an informer. He said he did this so that the authorities would appreciate "the threat of these people to the United Stas Government."

The Government charges that Father Berrigan and six other defendants conspired to blow up, heating tunnels to Government buildings on the stiffled was true, and that the stiffled was true, and that the Country" and had fixed on "the destruction of utility sys. Defense Department offices.

The said he had been down in the tunnel system with an other individual," Douglas testibute the priest the said he posed as an electrical engineer. There was no problem in getting access no problem in getting access no problem in getting access and several General Services vania Avenue," Douglas said.

The Government charges that Father Berrigan and six other defendants conspired to blow up, heating tunnels to Government buildings on the stiffied was true, and that the country" and had fixed on "the destruction of utility sys. Defense Department offices.

He said he had been down in the tunnel system with an other individual," Douglas testibute the priest he basid he had presented to be confined to Lewisburg. After State Berrigan arrived, Douglas said.

The Government of the country" and had fixed on "the destruction of utility sys. Defense Department offices.

He said he had been down in the tunnel system with an other individual," Douglas testibute the priest he basid he had been down in the tunnel system with an other individual, "Douglas said he had present the country" and head been down in the tunnel system with and expressed concern lest the basid he had been down in the tunnel system with and expr he testified was not true.

The witness went on:

"Father Phil said, 'Is there any way you could get messages out or make phone calls to a friend of mine?"

"I said I could get a letter out if that's what he wanted."

Thus, according to the testimony, began Douglas's brief career as a prison courier. Douglas testified that beginning with the very first letter, which was a fairly relaxed witness when Assistant Attorney General William S. Lynch called him to the stand.

As he entered the courtroom, Douglas cast a fleeting glance at Father Berrigan and smiled. The priest regarded him sternly. Father Berrigan took copious notes during the informer's testimony.

Douglas said he was serving a five-year term at Lewisburg passing Dr. Drinnon, explaining for armed assault on an F.B.I. agent and for interstate transportation of forged securities when Father Berrigan was rentirely trust Drinnon."

gestion, Douglas testified, he objection when they encountfor destruction of draft records began transmitting and receiv-ered him there.

By that time Douglas had chats, Douglas said, he told utmost impact on the United

So at Father Berrigan's sug- Administration people raised no

"Father Berrigan said that to Meanwhile in prison yard destroy the pipes would have board records."

Douglas said that one day in May, 1970, Father Berrigan confided that he had looked at "several projects throughout the country" and had fixed on "the destruction of utility systems in Washington."

Douglas testified the priest told him he entered the tunnel system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department offices.

Douglas testified the priest system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department offices.

Douglas testified the priest told him he entered the tunnel system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department offices.

Douglas testified the priest told him he entered the tunnel system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department offices.

Douglas testified the priest told him he entered the tunnel system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department offices.

Douglas testified the priest told him he entered the tunnel system unchalenged through the Forrestal Building, known in Washington as the Little Pentagon because it contains Defense Department of the priest Pentagon because it contains Defense Department of the priest Pentagon because it contains Defense Department of the Pentagon because it contain